Key Points

- Pure-Play Exposure to Rare Earths – The only ETF focused on companies that generate a majority of revenue from the mining, separation, refining or production of rare earths.
- Strategic Importance – Rare earths are critical to global defense systems, energy and electrification, AI and datacenters, semiconductors, robotics, EVs, and advanced technologies.

IMPORTANT DISCLOSURES & DEFINITIONS

An investor should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses carefully before investing. To obtain a Sprott Rare Earths Ex-China ETF Statutory Prospectus, which contains this and other information, visit <https://sprottets.com/rexc/prospectus>, contact your financial professional or call 1.888.622.1813. Read the Prospectus carefully before investing.

The Sprott Rare Earths Ex-China ETF is new and has limited operating history. Investors in the Fund should be willing to accept a high degree of volatility in the price of the Fund's shares and the possibility of significant losses. An investment in the Fund involves a substantial degree of risk. The Fund is not suitable for all investors. The Fund is considered non-diversified and can invest a greater portion of assets in securities of individual issuers than a diversified fund. As a result, changes in the market value of a single investment could cause greater fluctuations in share price than would occur in a diversified fund. Compared to base metals, rare earths have more specialized uses, crucial to many of the world's most advanced technologies. Consequently, the demand for rare earths has strained supply, which may result in a shortage, adversely affecting the companies in the Fund.

Shares are not individually redeemable. Investors buy and sell shares of the Sprott Rare Earths Ex-China ETF on a secondary market. Only authorized participants may trade directly with the Fund, typically in blocks of 10,000 shares.
